

Hong Kong Shue Yan University

The Institutional Development Scheme International Conference 2019

Bridging the Gap: Translating Interdisciplinary Research into Evidence-Based Practice

May 3 – 4, 2019

CALL FOR PAPERS

Submission Due Date: March 15, 2019

The conference is interested in connecting innovative ideas and nourishing scholars in the development of high impact researches. Here we call for papers joining oral or poster presentation or panel or demonstration session with respect to the two conference themes: 1. interdisciplinary research in evidence-based practice; 2. research methods and localization of evidence-based practice.

Format

- Oral Presentation
- Poster Presentation
- Panel Session
- Demonstration (Hardware/ Software/ Teaching)

Rules and Guidelines

Oral or Poster Presentation

1. Submission of abstract within 500 words is required, with research objectives, proposed methodology and a discussion of expected outcomes.
2. Completed research papers, student papers, case studies, work-in-progress research, research note, agenda and proposal related to evidence-based practice are welcome.
3. Individual or multiple authors are welcome.
4. Once the submission is accepted, at least one of the authors must present at the conference.
5. The language of the papers must be in English.
6. The reference style must be in APA format.
7. All documents should be prepared in MS WORD or PDF (version 1.7 or above) format in single-spaced with one-inch margin and fonts in 12 points Times New Roman.
8. Oral presentation will consist of three to four presenters in a 60-minute session. Presenter is expected to present the paper and answer audience's questions within 15-

- 20 minutes. The presentation slides should be in PPT or PDF (version 1.7 or above) format and submitted in advance.
9. Poster presentation will be displayed in a designated area. Corresponding author is required to present the poster on the first day of the conference. Poster format should be prepared according to the template provided.
 10. Accepted paper abstracts will be printed on our conference proceeding.
 11. High-quality conference papers will be considered for publication with the Asia Pacific Journal of Counselling and Psychotherapy upon mutual agreement.

Panel or Demonstration Session

1. The panel session requires one chairman to host the session with a minimum of three presenters, to discuss a common issue and integrate different perspectives.
2. The demonstration session aims to introduce new or exploratory research work, hardware, software, skill or technique in teaching and learning.
3. Submission summary within 200 words is required including the following information:
 - a. The title of the session, a statement of objectives, list of speakers in the panel session or a description of the intended audience in the demonstration session
 - b. For Panel Session: Chairman's name, department, affiliation and email address
 - c. For Demonstration Session: a brief description of hardware, software or other equipment to be demonstrated
 - d. Abstract of the presenters within 50 words each (optional)
4. Each session is 60 minutes.
5. Completed research papers, student papers, case studies, work-in-progress research, research note, agenda and proposal related to evidence-based practice are welcome.
6. The summaries of accepted sessions will be printed on our conference proceeding.
7. All conference attendees are welcome to attend the panel or demonstration session(s).

Important Dates

- Deadlines for submission: March 15, 2019
- Result announcement: Within 3 weeks after submission

Enquiries

Tel: (852) 2804 8579

Website: <http://bit.ly/IDS-Conference-2019>

Email: Connie Chan kkchan@hksyu.edu / Joseph Lam hhlam.ids@hksyu.edu